

VERMONT IS FOR HUGHES

Instructions for Delegates Fixed by State Convention.

MONTPELIER, Vt., May 26.—The Vermont delegation to the National Republican Convention will go to Chicago instructed for Justice Charles E. Hughes. A resolution to this effect was adopted when the State Convention opened to-day.

HISTORY OF FAT REDUCTION

There is a bit of history published for the benefit of the overfat. For many years there has been published in the daily press a notice for overfatness—the now famous Karmol's Prescription of an eminent physician. No doubt you have seen it, noticed it casually and decided that when you had the time you would try for yourself the merits of this mixture. Many have successfully used this harmless remedy in their endeavoring to get back to health. The same great physician has condensed his famous Prescription into convenient tablet form, so that you have only to take after meals and at bed time a remarkably pleasant little tablet containing all the effective, pure, harmless ingredients of the original prescription. The pound-a-day reduction to your normal self comes without dieting, self-denial or exercise, and leaves no wrinkles or flabbiness. Karmol's Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists or sent postpaid by the Karmol's Co., 114 E. Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. The price is 75c for a large case—a generous supply.—Adv.

DR. POTTER ATTACKS MAYOR FOR SAYING FUND WAS RETAINED

charges were made," shouted Dr. Potter, waving his arms.

Dr. Potter read Mayor Mitchell's testimony that Mgr. McMahon had raised a fund of $2,000 on an honorarium for Dr. Potter, but his conscience troubled him and he kept it himself.

"I believe Mgr. McMahon is dead and cannot come here," remarked Counsel Frank Moss.

"He is dead—but I'm here," cried Dr. Potter, and the crowd laughed. "Mgr. McMahon was my dear friend. He was crushed, humiliated, by the insults heaped upon him in the so-called investigation made by the Commissioner of Accounts, so he died. But I don't die that way."

More applause.

"Mayor Mitchell was Commissioner of Accounts at that time, was he not?" asked Mr. Moss.

"He was," said the witness. "Certain mistaken friends of mine thought they would make a present, and they began to collect it, but they soon saw their error and abandoned the plan. I never heard of it until three years after the fact, and then I read it in the public press."

Dr. Potter described the investigation by Commissioner of Accounts Raymond Fosdick as a "snick-raking expedition"—this was the inquiry which brought up the honorarium of $2,000 proposed to be given to Dr. Potter.

ALL AN EFFORT TO CREATE SCANDAL, SAYS POTTER.

"The whole thing was an effort to create scandal," shouted Dr. Potter. "That was the reason and the only reason that John Purroy Mitchell retailed to this committee this afternoon about the $500 or $5,000 item." Dr. Potter read from the minutes of the Fosdick investigation to prove that only $2,000 had been raised anyhow, and that Mgr. McMahon put the money into the general fund.

"An honorarium for me!" shouted the witness. "There never was a fouler or fairer slander on the memory of a beloved man, now in his grave. There never was such a fund; and that testimony was given in Mayor Mitchell's presence."

Dr. Potter read Mgr. McMahon's testimony at the Fosdick investigation to the effect that he had used the $2,000 or $3,000 raised for the general purposes of his office.

"MAYOR'S SOLE PURPOSE TO TRADUCE THE DEAD."

"It looks," said the witness, his voice quivering, "as if Mayor Mitchell's sole purpose in referring to the matter was to traduce the dead."

The witness produced the original affidavit on the subject made by Mgr. McMahon, shortly before his death, at Carlisle. The deposition was taken by Will L. Lewis, U. S. Consul. It gave in detail the work to which the fund was applied.

"Is that one of the papers you were afraid might be lost or stolen from your desk?" asked Mr. Moss.

"Yes," said the witness. "It is a document I would not lose for anything in the world."

"I don't care what John Purroy Mitchell says about me any time or anywhere," cried Dr. Potter. "It will not affect my eating, sleeping, living or dying. I do care very much what he said about my dead friend, Mgr. McMahon. There is a proverb which says, 'He that is fast in his own cause seemeth just, but his neighbor cometh and searcheth him out.' On the McMahon case I have searched him out. He slandered Mgr. McMahon and he slandered me."

Dr. Potter took up a statement by Mayor Mitchell in which he accused Dr. Potter of being engaged in an attempt to intimidate the Commissioner of Charities and to intimidate him.

"Huh!" exclaimed Dr. Potter, "how are you going to intimidate a man who goes around with a lot of detectives, or the Mayor, who goes with a squad around him like a passing potentate?"

A burst of laughter greeted this sally.

Dr. Potter went on to give his opinion of those who criticize the way in which some charitable institutions were run. Senator Thompson declared that he had heard a great deal of the so-called "charity trust" in New York, with its comfortable offices, &c.; he thought it would be well to investigate it, but this committee has no power to go into the genera subject.

"I don't want to criticize the city administration or the police," said Senator Thompson. "I think this administration has tried to improve on previous administrations. I think that as the Mayor sees a thing he tries to do what is right."

"But, anyhow, I can't excuse the miscellaneous tapping of telephone wires. I don't believe in it. I don't think any police department or city administration should have the power to tap telephone wires on suspicion."

"I don't see how the Mayor and the administration want to tap telephone wires."

Dr. Potter, before leaving the witness stand, declared that "three policemen, wire tappers, these fellows here," called on him last Sunday and said they hoped he had no hard feelings.

"But I know," he added, "that they came only to hear my voice so that they could swear to it when they come to testify here. They came to get my dead voice."

"Yes," said the Rev. William B. Farrell, standing up, "and I had a similar experience last week when I left the Grand Jury room in Brooklyn. Five of them gathered around me and thrust their heads close to my mouth to hear me talk. I knew what they were after and laughed at them. I told them that my assistants had been with me eight and ten years and their voices sounded exactly like mine."

"Having let the Mayor go on and give a lot of irrelevant testimony," said Senator Thompson before the hearing was opened, "we've got to let the others go ahead and say whatever they like in reply. They may call all the witnesses they want. We shall also examine Sergt. George Yunge and the four other policemen who carry on the wire-tapping business."

"We're not afraid of anything that may come up about wire-tapping. The Seymour-Morgan thing doesn't scare us a bit; neither does the religious thing. We've opened everything the public has a right to know. As to Dr. Potter, I don't see any proof of conspiracy to get him out of the jurisdiction or that he tried to flee. He had the natural wish to hear what the other side had to say before he went on. He wanted to testify for his own side and not the Hotchkiss side. Then he had difficulty in getting on the stand."

Mayor Mitchell to-day denied that the police "supervised" as he put it, the telephone wires of Mgr. John J. Dunn or Rev. Joseph P. Dinneen, Secretary to Bishop Hayes. Said the Mayor:

"I have made a most careful, painstaking and minute inquiry from the very beginning to ascertain if such a thing had been done and have come to the conclusion that neither the wires of Mgr. Dunn nor Father Dinneen were supervised."

"Will any steps be taken to-day in the matter of prosecution against Mgr. Dunn, Father Farrell and Messrs. Potter and Hebard?" the Mayor was asked.

"Nothing will be done," replied the Mayor.

"Are you waiting to learn what develops at the Thompson Committee hearings?" the Mayor was asked.

"Yes, naturally," he replied.
